Art and Culture

Founded by the Etruscans and flourishing under the Roman Empire, Bologna is a city with over two millennia of history, rich in culture and culinary traditions. Known as “La Dotta” (The Learned) for its ancient university, “La Grassa” (The Fat) for its excellent cuisine, and “La Rossa” (The Red) for its characteristic red roofs, Bologna offers an unforgettable experience for visitors. Bologna’s rich musical heritage has earned it the UNESCO designation of “City of Music” This is evident in institutions like the Philharmonic Academy, the International Museum and Library of Music, and the 18th-century Teatro Comunale. In this city were born some of the most famous Italian legends like Lucio Dalla, Vasco Rossi and many others.

Bologna’s extensive network of porticoes, spanning over 38 Km, is a testament to its rich history. Built since the 11th century to accommodate a huge number of students and professors to the University of Bologna, these iconic walkways have been declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site.
